FAWCO is a United Nations accredited NGO with special consultative status with the UN Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC). FAWCO UN Reps are engaged in awareness raising and advocacy in New York, Geneva, Vienna and Athens, and hold leadership positions on NGO Committees on the Status of Women, Human Rights, and Migration. FAWCO supports the UN’s Sustainable Development Agenda through its Global Issues Task Forces, Target Program and Youth Program.

FAUSA is the alumnae organization of FAWCO. When FAWCO club members move to the U.S. or Canada, many of them join the FAUSA network to keep their connection to their clubs, maintain overseas friendships, and to continue to participate in FAWCO’s global activities. They also benefit from the support of others when experiencing the joys and challenges involved in relocating to North America after living internationally.

The FAWCO Foundation is a sister organization to FAWCO. The Foundation supports the philanthropic goals of FAWCO by fundraising for and administering programs that improve the lives of women and children worldwide. The Development Grant Program distributes funds to projects championed by FAWCO member organizations. Through the Education Awards Program, The Foundation recognizes scholastic achievement with merit-based funds for FAWCO and FAUSA Members, as well as their children and grandchildren. The Foundation also directs the fundraising campaign for the FAWCO Target Program.

FAWCO is the oldest and largest non-partisan organization representing private sector Americans abroad. FAWCO works to keep the public up to date on issues important to Americans living and working overseas, including citizenship, voting, taxation, and banking concerns. FAWCO was instrumental in the creation of the Americans Abroad Caucus in 2007 and participates actively in an annual Overseas Americans Week in Washington D.C., taking its members’ concerns directly to legislators and policymakers.

FAWCO Global Issues Task Forces raise awareness on issues supporting the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), specifically Education, Environment, Health, and Human Rights and provide an avenue for action on both the Member Club and individual member level.

In 2009, FAWCO and the FAWCO Foundation launched the Target Program to unite member clubs in improving the lives of women and girls in the areas of education, environment, health, and human rights. Target Programs follow a three-year cycle of issue awareness and education, project selection, fundraising, project monitoring, review and evaluation. The Target Program demonstrates the power of FAWCO Member Clubs working together toward a common goal to increase knowledge and awareness of the global issues impacting women and girls.

The FAWCO Youth Program was launched in 2013 to promote cultural understanding and raise awareness of global issues among young people, helping them develop into responsible, caring global citizens. The FAWCO Youth Program includes several modules: Cultural Volunteers, FAWCO Youth Ambassadors and UN Youth Reps, and partner programs including Eleanor Roosevelt Girls’ Leadership Worldwide.

FAUSA is the alumnae organization of FAWCO. When FAWCO club members move to the U.S. or Canada, many of them join the FAUSA network to keep their connection to their clubs, maintain overseas friendships, and to continue to participate in FAWCO’s global activities.
